Finalization of the "Intergenerational Intervention in Dementia" E- book

We are thrilled to announce the launch of the e-book titled "Promoting Intergenerational Activities to Support Caregivers of People with Dementia," the final outcome of the DEMcare4all project. This e-book, developed by our dedicated consortium of partners from Sweden, Italy, Greece, Denmark, Ireland, and Poland, offers a wealth of innovative interactive intergenerational activities aimed at enhancing the skills of caregivers and promoting interactions with dementia patients.

It includes a collection of board games, word puzzles, and art activities, all designed to foster meaningful interactions between dementia patients from one side and younger generations and caregivers from the other side. These materials not only stimulate cognitive functions but also promote social interaction and emotional well-being, providing caregivers with a comprehensive toolkit for improving the quality of life for those they care for.

Representatives from all six partner countries came together to review the project's achievements and plan its final activities. Central to the discussions was the finalization of the e-book, with partners sharing insights from the piloting phase and discussing improvements based on feedback from various cultural contexts. The meeting also focused on ensuring that the project's legacy would continue through effective dissemination strategies, solidifying the collaborative spirit that has been a hallmark of this project.
